

Authorization and Consent of/to the Copyright

1. Upon acceptance for publication, the author transfers and assigns to the Ministry of Finance the copyright to:
 - (1) Publish in print or digital form as an exclusive licensee. However, the author may use the manuscript or authorize others to use it for non-profit purposes;
 - (2) Provide database sales or services, such as digital archive, reproduction, public transmission, offering their users to read, download, and print as a nonexclusive licensee;
 - (3) Re-authorize National Library or other database service operators to provide the use of which is listed in paragraph 2, and make editorial change to meet the different format requirements of various database services.
2. The author agrees that Ministry of Finance may grant the use of the manuscript to National Library or other database service operators. The Ministry of Finance shall notify the author of the re-authorization through any contact methods stated in this consent except for gratuitous re-authorization.
3. The author guarantees that the manuscript is an original piece of work by him/herself, owns the right to transfer its publishing and proprietary rights, and there is no plagiarism or violation of copyright.
